The SoTL Commons

A Conference for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning

March 10-12, 2010

Georgia Southern University

About the Conference

The Center for Excellence in Teaching will host the 3rd annual "SoTL Commons" international conference on the campus of Georgia Southern University in Statesboro, Georgia, USA. The conference brings together people engaging in SoTL and anyone wanting to improve student learning outcomes in higher education today. The conference emphasizes that college teaching is intellectual work that is enhanced both by disciplinary scholarship and the scholarship on teaching the disciplines. The SoTL Commons Conference is a catalyst for learning, conversations and collaborations about SoTL as an inquiry-led, evidence-based way to improve student learning.

Call for Proposals

Proposals should be submitted online through the conference web page. The purpose of the conference is to be a real and virtual "commons" for college and university teachers, scholars, administrators, faculty developers, and others interested in the scholarship of teaching and learning as a focused, but expansive, evidence-based path for the improvement of teaching effectiveness and student learning outcomes.

Proposal submissions: August 15 - November 15, 2009
