Wildlife Center Gets a Special Visitor!

Toya Glover and Clint Tillman, Jr.

The Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University welcomed Dr. Gaud, Biology professor at Georgia Southern University to speak at the Low Country Institute. Dr. Gaud, along with his class, also spent time at the Wildlife Center while attending the Low Country Institute. The Low Country Institute is a week long educational event for students of all ages. Each day has a different theme with guest wildlife educators offering activities to the students. The Low Country Institute is the place for summer campers to learn about the wonderful animals and plants in Georgia.

The biggest economic impact of the Low Country Institute was the high demand for our local wildlife species. It was highly enjoyable to watch them learn about the various species of wildlife in Georgia.

"Freedom" and other birds were on display and their habitats were emphasized. The Low Country Institute students had the opportunity to learn about each species and their unique characteristics. The wildlife educators worked hard to make the week informative and enjoyable for everyone.

GSU Student Employee of the Year - Casey Corbett

Casey Corbett, Jr. Student Employee of the Year, began working at the Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University in December of 2010. Casey started out as an intern and was hired as a student employee in spring of 2011, and was quickly hired as a student employee in August of 2011. She graduates with a degree in Biology.

Scott Courdin

Scott has been working as a Volunteer Coordinator for the Wildlife Education program at Georgia Southern University for three years. The Wildlife Education program is a great way to learn about and interact with wildlife in Georgia. Scott has worked with many students, staff and volunteers and has helped make the program a success.

Pam Harley

Pam has been working as the Volunteer Coordinator for the Wildlife Education program at Georgia Southern University for two years. She started working in spring of 2011 and has worked with many students, staff and volunteers. Pam has been a great help to the program and has made it a success.

Casey Corbett

Casey started working at the Wildlife Center of Georgia as an intern in December of 2010. She quickly became a student employee and has been working there ever since. She is graduating with a degree in Biology.

The Low Country Institute

The Low Country Institute is a week long educational event for students of all ages. Each day has a different theme with guest wildlife educators offering activities to the students. The Low Country Institute is the place for summer campers to learn about the wonderful animals and plants in Georgia.

Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University

The Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University is a great place to learn about wildlife in Georgia. They have many programs and activities for students of all ages. They also have alligator races, bird races, and many other fun activities. The Wildlife Center of Georgia is a great place to learn about wildlife in Georgia.

Our Facebook Page

Like us on Facebook to keep up to date with all of the latest news and events at the Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University. Follow us on Facebook to stay in touch with us and to learn more about the wonderful world of wildlife in Georgia.

About Us

We are the Wildlife Center of Georgia at Georgia Southern University. We are dedicated to the education and preservation of wildlife in Georgia. We offer many programs and activities for students of all ages. We also have alligator races, bird races, and many other fun activities.