Reminder About Our New Summer Programs

Hold-on, strap-in, while things are changing both at the Wildlife Center and across campus, better times are ahead if you have been watching.

Ruthie and kids have been woven into the fabric of the Wildlife Center and I'm forever in their debt.

A very special thank you to President Marrero for taking his Saturday to attend the opening ceremony and invite attendees into the Center.

A Special Thanks From Our Director, Steve Heim

Donors are recognized with bronze plaques to the right of the new entrance. They have generously given to the Wildlife Center over many years which includes assisting in enclosing the Waterfowl Pond. Below: A crowd begins to gather at the new entrance to the Center. Below: The new entrance has added space for additional parking and is a much safer place for visitors.

Additions.

Two Daily Programs Starting at 9:30 AM & 3:30 PM

A 1 1/2 hour Program for K-12 students - include hands-on activities and meet the Center's animals. These are great for those small groups or families that want to see the Center's animals up close and personal. These are great for large groups as they will be sure to teach you something new each time.

Enjoy a short, informative program before or after lunch. These programs have different themes each day and will enhance the summertime experience.

Two Daily Programs Starting at 9:30 AM & 3:30 PM

A 1 1/2 hour Program for Adults

These are great for those interested in more advanced information about the Center's residents and what is currently happening in the wildlife world. The programs also feature updates to the Children's Discovery Center's exhibits for exhibit. This fall, the exhibit will feature even more Bald Eagles at the Wildlife Center. These programs have different themes each day and will provide the opportunity to learn about the Center year-round. The waterfowl on display represent nearly fifty ducks representing nine different species - all year long… for FREE.

Nearly fifty ducks representing nine different species, are on permanent display for all visitors to the Wildlife Center. Two Duck Species Fact Sheets are available for their readers by clicking on the link. Below: military veterans can visit the Wildlife Center for free with Freedom, the mascot of Georgia Southern University and champion of the environment!

Keep current with what's going on for the environment! Begin your journey with Freedom, the mascot of Georgia Southern University and champion of the environment. And remember, military veterans can visit the Wildlife Center for free with Freedom, the mascot of Georgia Southern University and champion of the environment.

These are great for those interested in more advanced information about the Center's residents and what is currently happening in the wildlife world. The programs also feature updates to the Children's Discovery Center's exhibits for exhibit. This fall, the exhibit will feature even more Bald Eagles at the Wildlife Center.

These are great for those interested in more advanced information about the Center's residents and what is currently happening in the wildlife world. The programs also feature updates to the Children's Discovery Center's exhibits for exhibit. This fall, the exhibit will feature even more Bald Eagles at the Wildlife Center.

These are great for those interested in more advanced information about the Center's residents and what is currently happening in the wildlife world. The programs also feature updates to the Children's Discovery Center's exhibits for exhibit. This fall, the exhibit will feature even more Bald Eagles at the Wildlife Center.

These are great for those interested in more advanced information about the Center's residents and what is currently happening in the wildlife world. The programs also feature updates to the Children's Discovery Center's exhibits for exhibit. This fall, the exhibit will featur